

Anatomy Club.

If enough students want it, it happens. That is the whole plan.

A student club for people who want more anatomy than a course can hold. Sixty seconds of your opinion decides whether it exists.

- Career nights. Surgeons, PAs, physical therapists, morticians, medical illustrators. People paid to know anatomy, telling you how they got there, and what they would do differently.
- Research opportunities. Real projects with real mentors.
- Honors work. The kind that makes a transfer application stand out.
- Dissection experiences. Beyond what any single course can offer.
- Conferences. Go where the anatomists go, and come back with contacts.
- Your people. Study partners, future colleagues, and friends who also think the human body is the best machine ever built.

Would you join?

Scan with your phone camera. One tap, anonymous, signs you up for nothing.

YES

MAYBE

NO

SIXTY SECONDS, THREE BUTTONS